Doctor discussion guide

You know your body better than anyone else. So, when it comes to your health, you're the best person to communicate your health needs. But when you're in the middle of a doctor's appointment, it can be great to have a list of the questions you plan to ask.

Print this page and mark the questions you want to ask at your next appointment.

Question	Doctor's answer
<input type="checkbox"/> Are my symptoms expected to get better or worse over time?
<input type="checkbox"/> What treatment options are available for my specific diagnosis?
<input type="checkbox"/> What can I expect from the treatment you are recommending, both short- and long-term?
<input type="checkbox"/> How would the treatment you are recommending fit with my lifestyle and how often would I have to take it?
<input type="checkbox"/> Is the treatment you are recommending covered by health insurance or another assistance program?
<input type="checkbox"/> Is there a program to help support me if I have questions or concerns?
<input type="checkbox"/> What has been your experience, or other patients' experiences, with the support program?
<input type="checkbox"/> What other resources or lifestyle changes can help me better manage my condition?

Bring this page with you to your next appointment and complete it with your doctor's advice.
